

March 30, 2007

By Overnight Courier and Email

Rob@HobbyistSoftware.com
rob.jonson@gmail.com
support@hobbyistsoftware.com

Rob Jonson
Hobbyist Software
Flat 46 Streatham Court
Streatham High Rd
London BG, SW16 1DL

Re: Intellectual Property Matters for Palm, Inc.

Dear Mr. Jonson:

We represent Palm, Inc. ("Palm") in intellectual property and advertising matters. As you know, Palm is the owner of the trademarks PALM and TREO, as well as an assortment of other famous trademarks and domain names incorporating the PALM and TREO marks and logos.

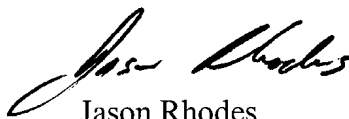

Palm recently discovered that you are offering downloadable images of the PALM and TREO logos on your Web site: <http://hobbyistsoftware.com/initiate-backgrounds.php>. While Palm appreciates your enthusiasm for its products and your being a part of the Palm developer community, Palm cannot allow you to offer its PALM and TREO logos for download, because by offering these downloadable images, you are creating a likelihood that consumers might believe that you are somehow affiliated with Palm. Palm has a legal obligation not to allow unauthorized use, distribution, and downloading of its marks. As such, Palm is requesting that you remove any downloadable images of the PALM and TREO logos. For your reference, information on permissible uses of Palm's marks can be found at <http://www.palm.com/us/company/trademark.html>.

Rob Jonson
March 30, 2007
Page 2

Thank you in advance for your cooperation. Please confirm in writing by April 14, 2007 that you have removed the downloadable images of any and all PALM and TREO logos.

Sincerely,

WILSON SONSINI GOODRICH & ROSATI
Professional Corporation

Jason Rhodes

cc: Palm, Inc.